

Welcome to the
Gasline Newsletter

MAY 2019 EDITION

Published monthly by LPG and
Gas Associations of New Zealand

Gasline is published regularly as part of the industry's efforts to encourage the direct use of natural gas and LPG into households and small businesses.

Using natural gas and LPG as a direct energy source offers numerous cost, environmental and energy efficiency benefits. Gas New Zealand hopes to educate consumers and policy makers about the many advantages of making wider use of this strategic energy asset.

IN THIS ISSUE

CNG public bus fleet burgeons in Bulgaria

LPGA becomes a WLPGA member

Hydrogen trial a piece of the puzzle for New Zealand's energy future

WorkSafe campaign successful at changing behaviour around gas and electricity

New Zealand's new energy future

CNG public bus fleet burgeons in Bulgaria

A quiet public transport revolution is taking place in the Bulgarian capital of Sofia, as 22 Compressed Natural Gas (CNG) buses replace an aged fleet.

Read more

Hydrogen trial a piece of the puzzle for New Zealand's energy future

A hydrogen-pipeline trial likely to be among the first projects undertaken at the National New Energy Development Centre (NNEDC) is being set up in Taranaki.

Read more

New Zealand's new energy future

Renewable electricity will play only one part in achieving New Zealand's low-emissions targets, but there will be an ongoing demand for gas in the foreseeable future, according to a new report.

Read more

LPGA becomes a WLPGA member

The LPG Association has joined the voice of the global LPG industry, the World LPG Association, a group containing some 250 members operating in more than 125 countries.

"As we act on behalf of members, assistance gained from the WLPGA is useful to all members," Executive Director of the LPGA, Peter Gilbert, says.

"The WLPGA gathers information from all over the world on what is happening in the LPG Industry, and it also produces reports and guides on LPG technology, markets and campaigns.

Read more

WorkSafe campaign successful at changing behaviour around gas and electricity

Look after the only life you've got – that's WorkSafe's Energy Safety Cats key message which has stuck with New Zealanders for a successful third seasonal campaign.

The campaign, which ran over the 2018/19 summer period, highlighted the multiple summer-orientated risks associated with the use of gas and electricity – from barbecuing to camping and doing DIY work on your home.

The campaign performed incredibly with over 3 million impressions on social media alone. However, it's the post-campaign analysis that really shows us whether we have been effective in changing people's attitudes and behaviours when it comes to gas and electricity says Energy Safety Manager Mark Wogan.

Read more

STORY IDEAS?

We are always looking for stories from both the natural gas and LPG worlds, as well as the wider gas community.

If you have any story ideas for Gasline please email Daniel.

Gas New Zealand is published monthly by The PR Company for the LPG Association and Gas Association of New Zealand.

The views expressed in this publication are not necessarily those of the LPGA, or GANZ. The LPGA can be contacted by telephone (04) 914 1765, fax (04) 914 1766, or mail PO Box 1776, 6140, Wellington.

Unsubscribe / Update Profile Email: info@lpga.org.nz